SEPTMBER 17, 2007 - MEETING REVIEW:

Speaker-Keith Sellen
Title- Office of Lawyer Regulation

Susan Andrews provided the following introduction for the guest speaker:
“Keith Sellen is the Director of the Office of Lawyer Regulation, the agency of the Wisconsin Supreme Court that investigates allegations and prosecutes formal complaints of attorney misconduct and medical incapacity. Keith graduated from the United States Military Academy at West Point and the University of Wisconsin Law School in Madison. After graduation from law school, Keith served 16 years as an Army Judge Advocate, during which he received a Master of Laws degree from the Judge Advocate General’s School in Charlottesville, Virginia. Keith joined the Office of Lawyer Regulation on September 11, 2000. He is a native of Lena, Wisconsin, the son of a dairy farmer. His wife, Debbie, is a registered nurse. He has two children, a registered nurse currently living in Alabama, and an aspiring teacher at UW-Green Bay.”

Keith Sellen began his presentation by stating that President George Washington found it an arduous task to find someone of experience, integrity, and moral character to fill the position of Attorney General. He stated that lawyers are often regarded as persons of significance who have integrity and are trustworthy. One role of the Supreme Court of Wisconsin is to regulate the actions of its lawyers. The Wisconsin Supreme Court created the lawyer regulation system to supervise the practice of law and protect the public from misconduct by persons practicing law in Wisconsin. The Court has adopted standards of professional conduct for attorneys. Keith reported that the Preliminary Review Committee, the board of Administrative Oversight, and the Office of Lawyer Regulation comprise the Executive, Legislative, and Judicial branches of the State government. Keith Sellen conducted a group exercise in which each Rotarian read a series of cases against attorneys and then attempted to conclude whether the Office of Lawyer Regulation disposed of the case with which of the following verdicts: alternative program, private reprimand, public reprimand, short suspension, long suspension, or irrevocation of license.

4-WAY TEST:

Deb Wirtz led the club in the 4-way test to conclude today’s meeting.
Four Avenues of Service

The term "Four Avenues of Service" refers to the four elements of the Object of Rotary: Club Service, Vocational Service, Community Service and International Service.

Although the Avenues of Service are not found in any formal part of the constitutional documents of Rotary, many Rotarians use this concept to describe the primary areas of Rotary activity.

Club Service involves all of the necessary activities Rotarians perform to make their club function successfully. Things like taking attendance, keeping records and raising money come under this Avenue of Service.

Vocational Service describes the opportunity each Rotarian has to represent the dignity and utility of one's vocation to the other members of the club, as well as the responsibility of the club to undertake projects related to such areas as career planning, vocational training, and the promotion of high ethical standards in the workplace.

Community Service pertains to those activities that Rotarians undertake to improve the quality of life in their community. It frequently involves assistance to youth, the aged, the disabled, and others who look to Rotary as a source of hope for a better life. When we are volunteer readers at Lincoln School, when the club pays to send grade school students to the symphony, when we raise money for the Literacy Council we walk this Avenue of Service.

The Fourth Avenue of Service, International Service, describes the many programs and activities that Rotarians undertake to advance international understanding, goodwill, and peace. International service projects are designed to meet humanitarian needs of people in many lands. Our most obvious international service is our connection with the orphanage in La Molina, Peru. Half the money from our table nes goes toward the eradication of polio through RI's Polio Plus effort. So even here in Oshkosh we are working internationally through the connection of Rotary.

When a Rotarian understands and travels down the Four Avenues of Service, the Object of Rotary takes on an even greater meaning.
